Facility Planning/Plant Layout/Interior Space Planning, Page 7

OK, so we've just taken giant strides to reworking our plant, what about interior space planning, like the finished spaces in the office area? Well, not to further disappoint you, but you'll probably have someone on your staff, or you'll hire someone else to figure the best layout for the interior space; your own "FaM shui". Your job, as the FM, will be to basically follow the same steps you used when making the in-plant changes. All of the same principals apply. One important note: just as you sought input from the "end-user" in the plant, don't forget the office "end-user", the administrative/clerical staff.

<<Back 1 2 3 4 5 6 7

Click here to return to Assignment 7

© 2009 Kevin T. McMeel